Knowledge Beyond Comprehension

Joy and suffering are very personal things.

Rejoicing with those that rejoice and weeping with those that weep is generally done with those with whom we are close. It is most definitely limited to those situations we know about.

When our joy and our suffering is ours and it is great, we want the world to stop and it is a bit of a shock to us when it doesn't. "Don't they know?" "How can the world go on when so much of it has stopped for us?"

But even the best and kindest of us cannot rejoice and weep with everyone, simply because we do not know about their situation in life. Such knowledge is beyond our ability.

But not so with God.

Not even a sparrow falls to the ground without the Father. Jesus tells us that.

David focused on this knowledge of God and wrote the 139th Psalm about it.

He pondered the impossibility of going to a place where he could be out of the presence of God. Even his own thoughts were known by God before David even thought them.

He said such knowledge was too wonderful and too high for him. It was beyond his comprehension.

But what David realized about God was not just true for David. It is true for everyone. Such is the nature of the Bible. It is God's book written to individuals which applies to every human being in the world.

Such knowledge and wisdom is beyond comprehension.

Is Christianity like Insurance?

Hebrews 6:11,12 And we desire each one of you to show the same earnestness to have the full assurance of hope until the end, so that you may not be sluggish, but imitators of those who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

Why do we buy insurance? I have home, car, health, pet and even life insurance. I bought some of those policies, because I can't afford to fix everything in case something major happens. I bought my home and car insurance just in case something happens. If this is how I think of Christianity, then I need to change that mentality. We can't be Christians just in case there is a God or just in case there is a hell. Christianity is not about, "just in case something happens so I am protected by the policy". God meant for us to be active in the Church. He meant for us to take charge and help those who need encouragement. God wants us to work in his church serving one another. Let's imitate the faith of those who obtained what God promised them, because they did what God asked of them.
